

A league of our own

When one of our well-respected support partners were awarded the contract to install a free, fan-based Wi-Fi system at a Premier League football ground, MSV were called in to handle the system design and installation.

As with most stadia Wi-Fi projects flexibility and affordability were key. On one side the average match day attendance at this ground was just under 30,000 per game, but the problem was, they have less than 25 home games a season. The need for good, free Wi-Fi was sporadic on the extreme as most of time it was hardly needed at all.

MSV implemented a full project survey, handled the installation of the Wi-Fi system itself and now offer ongoing support to the end user client. In addition, we created a guest Wi-Fi portal, built secure firewalls and brought in content filtering.

Overall MSV worked through the channel, putting in a solid, team performance which ultimately delivered a win.
